

The British Council and Hazz Café announce the launch of an exciting programme of interesting, fun talks connected to Azerbaijan

The newest cultural event in Baku
Don't be slow to react! Come and find out more Come and enjoy yourself in an informal environment

Sunday 19 October

What do you know about Baku – the people, the places?
Come and experience these through the lens of German professional photographer, Sebastian Burger.

Sebastian has spent the last three months in Baku exploring a huge variety of places, not the usual, but the little known, even to Bakuviens. He's put together a fascinating collection of photographs, which he will talk us through and then there will be time for questions and discussion.

Make sure you don't miss the very first event of this dynamic and eclectic programme.

This is open to anyone who would like to come. There is no entrance fee.

Forthcoming events

Sunday 9 November

Mark Elliot, the famous Azerbaijan guide book writer, will be in town. Mark will be taking time out of his busy programme to talk to us about some interesting aspects of his adventures in the country and bringing us up to date with changes that have taken place since his guide came out in 2004.

Sunday 23 November

The indomitable Brigid Keenan, who we are lucky enough to have living in Baku at the moment, will entertain us with readings from her hilarious bestseller, Diplomatic Baggage, about her adventures of being a diplomat's wife in different parts of the world.

All events will last about one hour, starting at 7.00 pm and will be on a first come first served basis. The bar will be open, so come and meet your friends beforehand - get yourself a drink, sit back, relax, listen and join in the discussion (if you so wish!) in a friendly relaxed environment.

A fun evening to round off the weekend.
Don't miss this latest addition to the cultural life of Baku!
